Hardware.

Mr. F. Nussbaum of the firm Weirich, Gasche & Co., has returned from the east, where he purchased heavy stock of goods. Their new advertisement should have appeared in this issue, but owing to press of Job Work we are obliged to let it lie over for next week. They are daily receiving a lot of goods, and have many others

The demand for money is fair but not pressing, and the market for Currency is steady and moderately confortable. Eastern Exchange is in rather better supply but there is no surplus and the market is firm.

The following are the closing rates of Specie and Government securities in this market:

though many imperfect manufacturers, and though many imperfect machines have been invented and sold to the public, none have been produced which, for variety and quality of work, and also for general usefulness, have equalled this machine. The question whether Americans are equal to the task of designing the style of their own garments may be considered settled. The firm of E. Butterick & Co., have, by a successful experiment, established the fact that garments designed and manufactured in our own land, are superior in general fitness and beauty to imported costumes. The sudden rise and extraordinary growth of this establishment is a matter of surprise to even the most sanguine, who have longed for the day when America would assert its superiority in the matter of dress as fully as it has done in other respects.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

Por Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Golds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has any thing won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectinal remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Fourp, it should be kept on hand in every famile, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colors and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely carred, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Rilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses. So generally are its virtues known, that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.
